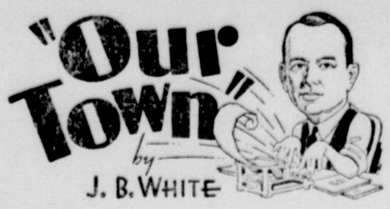
ROOSEVELT TAKES 3RD TERM OATH



David Bryan, local representative of the Fairmount Creamery Company, recently speaker before the Cameron Rotary Club, is doing a swell job to encourage a growing, vital industry for Cameron and Milam County. In his talk Mr. Bryan went into detail on methods of handling turkeys and chickens. Fairmount are buyers and packers. They are also one of the world's largest hatchery operators. At Giddings, Texas, where poultry has become the major source of income for farmers, Fairmount, owns one of the largest commercial poultry hatcheries in Texas. Here's something the public should know: During the recent turkey season, covering a period of about 3 weeks Fairmount under Mr. Bryan paid to local turkey raisers over One Hundred Thousand Dollars in cash. The company is doing much in the territory to make of poultry a grand scale commerical engagement. The company has a plan of aid to farmers which Cameron will surely invite within the next few weeks when a representative of that company comes to this territory to investigate the possibilities for increased production. Few know of the importance of produce in the business world here in Central Texas. Cameron's foundation is far advanced over the average community. It needs but to be touched by organization and by the stability of a long term program of finance. That can and will be supplied by Fairmount if the right spirit is found here. From indications business men are anxious to hear more about it. To retrieve our economic losses over the surrender of cotton is the first line of defense for the future security of local business. Let's make 1941 a year in which we fortify against loss and return business to the complex of profit. Think it over and in the meantime get Mr. Bryan's ideas about what we can do with poultry.

Cameron lost its cheese plant because the Chamher of Commerce would not take advantage of government funds made available to Associations of milk producers authorized by Congress. There was criticism of the banks for not making loans. The banks were not to blame. In fact Cameron banks did make loans and were willing to make as many as the program demanded. The whole matter was badly handled. There was no adaquate, workable plan to finance production because there was no sincere plausible effort to obtain proper credits based on ability to produce. No place in central Texas is more ideally located than Cameron for such a plant. The foundation is here and with proper encouragement the once promising industry could be restored. There was one difficulty: price. That will always be a problem until we are organized. Prices for produce should be posted daily. They should be genuine. Nothing as important as prices paid should be left unattended. The maintenance of markets should have the influence of organization such as a Chamber of Commerce might foster. Protection for the producer would save him many thousands annually. Cameron is the best egg production center in this section of Texas. Any town with backbone would bring an egg breaker and storage facilities here. Egg producers pay a penalty of some $50,000 annually because eggs are worth more in Waco than they are in Cameron. Produce taken over the counter for trade means that merchants are maintaining a market the year round. The volume is too large not to command the advantages of keen competative cash buying Think it over.

A delegation of Temple business men went to Austin last week, so said a published news story. They asked the Highway Department to appropriate money to pave a street in Temple. The plan is to take some

GERMANY TAKES OVER THE ITALIAN PEOPLE

Tobruk, important Italian base in North Africa, fell into the hands of the British today after a brief but firece fight in which more than 30,000 Italian soldiers were captured.

In London Winston Churchill told the House of Parliament that England is ready to invade the continent of Europe and to fight Hitler in the occupied portions of France and the low countries. He said the English have four million soldiers and that factories in England have built and are building every possible equipment needed for a modern army.

Although the British have made no official announcement that Tobruk has fallen, it was known in Rome, and in the House of Parliament, Mr. Churchill said, "Even as I speak Tobruk may be in our hands."

Italian occupation of Northern Africa has been definitely ended, never again, certainly in this war, will Italy be able to re-establish her control of any portion of the African empire. With the downfall of Tobruk and the collapse of the Italian effort in Africa, Ethiopia has been lost also and within the next few weeks King Haile Selassie will be able to re-enter his country, the conquering line of Juda from which he was driven by Mussolini more than 3 years ago.

Italy has surrendered to Germany. It was learned today that Adolf Hitler is now sole master of Mussolini's country. Faced with disaster in Afica and reverses in Albania, Mussolini was forced to come down off his proud place and give himself in object surrender to Hitler.

With the surrender of Italy the Germans lost no time in occupying strategic air bases and took over the army. This may account for the sudden counter offensive in Albania and the Greeks are reported to be advancing steadily.

There was much speculation in the capitals of Europe on what the ultimate result would be on the Italian people and what the Vatican might be obliged to do to protect its religious interests against the invasion of Nazism.

It was believed that Hitler would invade Yugoslavia because Russia will not hear to an invasion of Bulgaria which would threaten Turkey.

There was no immediate reaction to Churchill's statement that the British plan to invade the continent of Europe but for a long time it has been realized that the British can not hope to succeed until they have come to grips with Germany and fought it out on the field of battle.

Lindbergh Doesn't Care Who Wins The European War

Charles A. Lindbergh, one time popular American hero, today told the Foreign Affairs Committee in the House of Representatives that it made no difference to him who won the war.

Lindbergh said also, he favored a negotiated peace and if the war is won by either side, America will face economic disaster.

He was called to testify for opponents of the Lease Loan Bill, sponsored by President Roosevelt. Lindbergh said he thought that 10,000 first class planes would be sufficient to guarantee the safety of America against attack from any foreign power.

It is significant that this country in now preparing to produce approximately 50,000 planes.

Pfarrdrescher was high point man for Cameron with 9 points and Miller for Hearne who also made 9 points, was high point man for the Eagles. Sweet, a Yoeman, made 8 points.

WANTS STATE REMOVED FROM VICIOUS INFLUENCE

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel took the oath of office as Governor of Texas at high noon Tuesday, delivering an address which was a severe indictment of present conditions obtaining in Texas, making a plea to the Legislature his recommendations of the law bringing the common benefits of government to the entire citizenship of the State.

The Governor charged that shameful conditions have arisen in Texas over a period of years in which the powers of selfish interest have overshadowed the real purpose of the government. He called upon the Legislature to strike down lobbyists and all self seeking interests that prey upon the body, politic.

The Governor was especially vigorous in his demand that the Chief Executive be given the authority to dismiss state employees in order to exact an immediate responsibity to the people.

He is still advocating industrialization of Taxes, pointing out that the State posseses to an unusual degree all the natural resources out of which much of the manufactured articles of the nation can be produced.

The ceremonies surrounding the inauguration were colorful with the twenty-one gun salute being fired as the Governor completed his oath, administered by Judge J. P. Alexander, newly elected Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The University of Texas and the Texas A & M bands played familiar Texas tunes, one of which was "Beautiful Texas," composed by the Governor.

Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson, a stickler for Constitutional government, delivered his usual masterful address. While allowing some latitude for experimentation under an expanding Democracy, he closed with emphasis on limitations beyond which a free republic should not go. The stars from which the ship of State can chart its course are the Constitution and the ancient land marks which represent the cumulative wisdom of the forefathers.

Representative Homer Leonard of McAllen, Speaker of the House of Representatives opened the ceremonies and Senator Clay Cotton of Palestine introduced Senator Martin of Fort Worth who presented the Governor.

The Governor closed his address with an excoriation of dictator governments and made a plea for state and national unity behind the President in the defense program and to maintain the integrity of Democracy.

Mr. and Mrs Howard Whatley and son, Gregg, of Fort Worth spent the week end here.

DEMOCRACY CAN NOT DIE SAYS EXECUTIVE

President Roosevelt achieved American immortality today when he took the oath of office for a third term in a colorful ceremony that brought more than 100,000 people to the square surrounding the nation's capital.

In a short address of simple outline the President said that the purpose of America is to preserve Democracy and defined America as a spirit born of people who cherish liberty and are kept alive by being nurtured in the American way of life.

His voice took on a serious note occasionally as he referred to the international situation. On two previous occasions when he took oath of office, he said whatever danger threatened United States was from within, but now it comes from without. Democray will not stand still nor will it be relegated to subsidiary importance in the world.

Vice President John Nance Garner, the only Texan to serve as vice president, was visibly affected by the spirit of the event and was said by commentators to have forced back tears as President Roosevelt shook hands with him as they embraced before the great throng of Americans witnessing the historical event.

Mr. Garner administered the oath of office to Henry A. Wallace, the new Vice President, just before Chief Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court, swore in the President for the third term.

By becoming the nation's only President to serve three terms, Mr. Roosevelt has earned a distinction never before given.

The inauguration ceremonies were strictly American with the possible exception of a military display which, it was said, was staged out of consideration for the conditions now obtaining in the nation.

As the President's car and those who drove with him went down and returned over Pennsylania Avenue a great armada of motorized equipment flashed along the street while overhead the drone of many motors from bombing planes were heard.

Immediately after the inauguration the President returned to the reviewing stand in front of the White House and planned to have lunch with his family and a few others in the White House.

Earlier in the day he attended worship at St. John's Episcopal Cathedral in Washington.

ITALIANS MUST LEAVE AFRICA

It was officially announced today by the British that Tobruk, important Italian base in Libya, is now in the hands of British soldiers and approximately 20,000 Italian soldiers are prisoners of war.

The Daily Herald reported on Wednesday that Tobruk had fallen but it was not officially announced until late Wednesday or early Thursday morning.

The British army in North Africa lost no time over the capture of Tobruk but were speeding on 125 miles east to take the last remaining base away from the Italians.

Based on the success of the British campaign, the Italian empire in North Africa has vanished and nothing could be done to retrieve it.

The Germans held in extent their fighting columns as far as Africa because the British with four million men and growing stronger each day with American help could easily with the advantage of their superior naval power, make a counter offensive on the continent.

Turkey is now in elaborate preparation for war and already has in Thrace more than a million of her best soldiers together with the best equipment that can be obtained.

The situation in Rumania was somewhat vague although it was almost certain that thousands have been slain as result of the civil war which has broken out, resulting from a long series of disorders.

All German soldiers in Rumania were said to be confined to barracks awaiting any eventuality.

The Russian Communists were believed to be active in the present rebellion and there was growing demand on th part of the Rumanians that territory ceded to Hungary, be returned to Rumania.

It can now be safely said that although the British may be engaged somewhat to finish the campaign in North Africa that troops and equipment will be sent immediately into Greece and the next and decisive phase of the war will be fought in the Balkans.

POAGE GETS IMPORTANT NEW HOUSE ASSIGNMENT

Washington, D. C.—It has just been announced here that the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee have agreed to recommend Congressman W. R. Poage from the 11th Texas District to succeed the Honorable Marvin Jones on the important Committee on Agriculture.

Jones, who has been a member of Congress for 24 years, is retiring to accept a place on the Court of Claims. Through his long service he had reached the position of Chairman of the Committee and was recognized throughout the nation as an authority on agriculture. As soon as it became known that Mr. Jones was to retire, the Texas delegation unanimously endorsed Mr. Poage for this position. The action of the Ways and Means Committee in recommending him is considered tantamount to election to the place although this recommendation must be formally approved by the Democratic Caucus. Poage was the only member selected to this important Committee from West of the Mississippi River. Poage was also the only member of the Texas delegation who has so far in this session received recommendation to a major committee. The Committee on Agriculture is considered one of the most important in Congress and is of course of outstanding importance to Texas.

Congressman Poage not only represents one of the greatest agricultural districts in the nation but his own personal experience and intests have made him a student of agricultural problems so that he is generally recognized in Washington as the logical man to succeed a great retiring agricultural leader.

When approached on the subject, Congressman Poage said, "I deeply appreciate the outstanding honor that has been paid me. It will be my endeavor to use this position as a means of serving the farmers of America and particularly of Central Texas, I know of their struggles and difficulties. I can not promise any Utopia. In fact, I recognize that the war situation is bound to increase the difficulties of agriculture, but I shall at all times be found fighting to secure for our farmers their fair share of the national income which in my opinion means prices and production that will give to our farmers full parity of income."

PARTY GIVEN FRIDAY BY FRIEND OF FUTURE BRIDE

Miss Lois Randolph's courtesy to Miss Dorothy Kidd took the form of a very unique bridal party when she entertained Friday evening at the Randolph residence.

Receiving the twenty guests were the honoree and Miss Randolph.

Upon being shown into the living room, Mexician tray of corsages was passed among the guests. Miss Kidd was presented with a corsage of white carnations by the hostess and the guests received a small corsage of California daisies tied with white and yellow satin ribbon.

Mrs. T. N. Wood, the former Miss Ida Byrd Mayfield, read a Bride's Prayer and presented it to Miss Kidd later in the evening. Mrs. Vernon Collins sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning." A toast to the bride was given by Miss Mildred Thornton.

Something very different and yet most attractive was the salad plate Miss Randolph served. The salad formed a little bride. Half of an egg with painted features made the face; graded cheese was used for the hair and two smacks formed the body. The arms of the bride were stuffed celery; and chicken covered with a lettuce leaf made the skirt, and small sweet pickles were used for the feet. Also on the plate were cookies, roated pecans and a cup of tea.

Miss Martha Lee Werner aided the host in the serving.

Yoemen Loose First Basketball Game

The Yoemen lost their first game of the season 29 to 21 to the Belton Tigers at the Yoe High School gymnasium on Friday night.

At the half the score was 11 to 9 in Belton's favor. Four minutes before the game ended Belton had only two points more than Cameron with the score 23 to 21. The Yoemen made a creditable showing in view of the fact that they were playing without tne services of Pfarrdrescher, center and Buck Strickler, alternate forward.

Gene Phipps, sharp shooting Yoeman forward, was high point man for the night with 14 points. Jeffers and Bradford of Belton made 10 and 9 points, respectively.

The Yoemen play in Belton next Tuesday night and with Pfarrdrescher and Strickler back in the lineup it should make things very interesting for the Tigers.

The Yoemen's first opponent in the Milam County Basketball Tournament on February 14 and 15 will be Rockdale.

Marble Machines For Pleasure Operation Are Legal; Free Game Devices Removed On Tables

When Criminal District Attorney Morrison and Sheriff Valter White made a tour early Friday to see whether marble machines had been removed in accordance with their instructions published Wednesday they found a number of machines bearing labels on which were printed instructions that the machines are to be operated for pleasure and no free games are allowed.

These machines are so constructed that free games can be denied when the coin is inserted by a change in the mechanical construction.

Machines may be legally operated if for pleasure but they cannot be operated if free games are won on the coins placed in the slot.

As a result of this action on the part of the owners these machines are not being operated in violation of the law. As long as the machines are legally operated the Sheriff nor the District Attorney can force them out of operation.

Mr. Morrison acted in full cooperation with the Sheriff in the notice published on Wednesday and both were in complete accord with the Grand Jury.

It will be the duty of the Sheriff and District Attorney to keep a close supervision on these machines to see that their mechanism is not released to revert to the free game status. All machines so operated will be subject to immediate seizure and prosecutions may follow.

The public should understand that all machines noted in business houses are legal machines unless they offer the free game inducement.

Patrons of the machines may continue to play them but only for pleasure.

O'Brien was high point man for the Eagles having scored a total of 7 points.

DR. BARKER HERE FOR THREE ADDRESSES

Dr. Charles E. Barker of Grand Rapids, lecturer to Rotary Clubs for twenty years, arrived in Cameron today for three addresses before local groups.

This afternoon he spoke before the high school students at a general assembly on the subject "How to Make the Most of Life." At noon he addressed the Rotary Club members and their guests, under whose auspices he comes to Cameron, on the same subject. Tonight at 7:30 all parents and young people are urged to be at the high school for his address on "The Most Important Job in the World."

Dr. Barker has spoken in more than 7,500 high schools and colleges in the United States and Canada. About the high school students he says, "I'm always nervous speaking to high school students—they know so much more than other people."

During the past twenty years he has appeared before 2160 Rotary Clubs. His association with Rotary as a club lecturer began when he spoke at a Rotary Convention in Salt Lake City on "A Father's Reponsibility to His Sons."

An interesting fact about Dr. Barker is that he was physical instructor to William Howard Taft, when he was Secretary of War in 1905 and during his term as President of the United States.

Dr. Barker is brought to Cameron by the local Rotary Club as a contribution on the part of the club to community development and community welfare.

From Egypt's bondage to the Plains of Abraham—in quest of LAND!

It was not enough that Moses should deliver his people from the yoke of the Pharaohs—there must be land; there must be a solid foundation upon which a people may worship freely. So man's search for Freedom has been in a large sense of seeking for land. For in reality there can be freedom for no more people than the land can feed—Amercia's riches lie in the abundance of her lands, lands that her people own!

LAND IS WEALTH

What is yours in this world? You have a car, clothes, a little jewelry, and perhaps some cash and securities in the bank. But there is only one durable possession that a man may own, and that is LAND. Is there a part of this American earth that you can call your own?

of the traffic off a street now being used to reach Highway 36 and improve another street to get traffic through to the same highway. Milam county paid for an underpass so Temple could get a road from Rogers on west. The Highway Department has just made a large appropriation to build a bridge across in Austin running from the new the Colorado at Austin near Barton Springs and to improve a street bridge to the city proper. The Chamber of Commerce in Cameron voted 24 strong, unanimous, to ask for a new bridge across Little River. Why be short sighted enough to ask for a bridge only when Highway 77 and 36 are in their present shape. Give me the choice I would take the Highways. We not only must have the bridge, we must have the roads. If we don't compromise somewhere along the line we may get the old bridge repaired.

If our interests are served fairly we will get Highway 77 and 36 and a new bridge too. Think it over. It's going to be interesting.

NO IMMEDIATE AID TO BRITAIN POSSIBLE NOW

Defense Chief Knudsen told the Senate Committee at a hearing on the Roosevelt Bill to aid Britain that months would be required before the United States can give any effective aid to Britain.

Mr. Knudsen said he believed the British chould be required to pay for the materials they get.

Belief was expressed in some quarters that Britain would have to stand alone against the Axis powers so far as the United States is concerned, in the forthcoming crisis.

On two previous days Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary Knox of the navy expressed belief that the most critical stage of the war would occur within the next 90 days.

Unless Britain can obtain aid from America the war should be ended within a short time, so said some of the observers.

Strikes were developing rapidly as a part of the plan to keep aid from Britain. Labor was taking its toll at a precarious moment in the nation's history. Long periods of cultivation has brought forth the inevitable. The whole structure of industry was facing a break down. The administration has been a labor government in a large measure and now it cannot afford to be firm.

Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for presidency, held a two hour conference with Secretary of State Hull today and it was rumored he may also meet the President before he sails for Europe. It was believed that Willkie will go to England with the blessings of the administration and may go with official blessings.

The war lacked vigor today. Until another crisis is brewed the whole picture will be one of pacific outline.

Hefley, Sr., Miss Kathryn Hefley and Mrs. Bennie and Adolph Winfield. They all stressed the desire that neighborning towns and communities of the county help with this sewing and especially the knitting of sweaters, as the quota must be ready for shipment this month. The need is urgent and those who will help are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Hefley or Mrs. Winfield. The meeting adjourned with prayer.

CLUB ENTERTAINED MONDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tag entertained the Monday Bridge Club this week at their lovely home. The living room was attractively decorated with Vilets and Japonica. Following the bridge games at which Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Dusek won high, the members and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cole, were invited to the dining room for refreshments served in buffet style. The table was covered with a cream colored lace table cloth and centered with a bowl of pale pink sweet peas. Candles in hurricane lamps were placed on the buffet and provided the only light in the room. On one end of the table was the China coffee service and at the other was a decorated cheese loaf. Fritos, olives and fruit cake were served with the cheese loaf and coffee.

STREET PAVING MAY BE CUT SHORT HERE

It was understood that Cameron's street paving program may not be realized on the grand scale announced last summer.

Government funds for this purpose have been discontinued but at the time a certain sum had been ear marked for Cameron.

The city administration began the program by paving the vicinity of the Yoe High school and thence to the Court house square, making a sizable job but may exhaust funds alloted on this venutre.

Property owners, it was understood are not being required to pay a proportionate part of this cost.

It was believed that even though no city wide paving program is now in prospect a little paving is better than none at all.

Sentiment here may favor a financial program to get a city wide paving program and if the citizens know about the situation and the ability of the city to retire such an obligation, it would be an easy matter to improve our town.

Cameron streets have deteriorated much in recent months and there is no public emergency today as vital as street paving. Few towns in the class of Cameron can be found anywhere without a good system of paved streets.

There are a number of advantages, one being insurance rates.

Mayor Chas. C. Smith has an enviable record in financing the city. Securities in either bonds or warrants could be issued for a city wide paving program to be supplemented by labor aid from some of the government reserviors of money and Cameron made a more beautiful and substantial city.

When it became known that the paving program may stop with the completion of the present work, it occasioned some regret, but belief is expressed the city may soon outline to the people a plan to carry on this much needed work.

AIR WAR RAGING OVER THE CONTINENT

Except for raging air battles over France and German occupied territory, comparative quiet had settled down over the vast theatre of war Saturday.

Bolstered by American figthing planes great armadas of British bombing planes carried out destructive raids over Germany but Britain was practically free from bombings over the night.

United States aid to Britain continued to be the topic of world discussion with isolationists in Congress threatening to stage a last ditch fight to keep America out of actual fighting.

In Africa the British had completed encirclement of Tobruk and the fall of this important Italian base was imminent.

Renewed participation of the Germans in the air war to aid Italy had resulted in raids on British shipping and naval vessels in the Mediterranean sea.

British bombing planes have taken to the air in waves of 100 escorted by hundreds of fighter planes and the war was being carried to Germany on a grand scale in broad day light.

It was said that the British now feel they have sufficient air strength to risk heavy losses in the air and are mustering a grand scale attack on all military bases held by the Germans. The port of Brest in France was destroyed.

The United States had moved near actual fighting by placing the fleet in three groups, two of them in the Pactific and Britain was understood to have pledged use of the Singapore naval base in the far east.

Miss Willie Bee Isaacs and Miss Pewel Schmidt of Rockdale visited friends in Cameron Thursday night.

Mrs. S. L Horan of Pixley, Calif., visited the past week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meyer and family.

Today's Lesson in Flag Etiquette

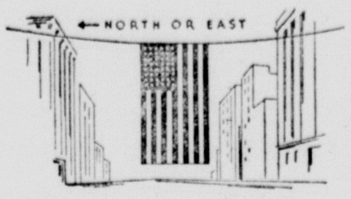
● Never display the American flag with the union down except as a signal of distress.



● When displayed over a street between two buildings, the American flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street, or to the east in a north and south street.

● When used in connection with the unveiling of a statue or monument, the flag should be prominently featured but should never be used as a covering for a statue.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 26.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art near, O Lord; and all thy commandments are truth. Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever" (Psalms 19: 151, 152.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other" (Psalms 85:10.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The thunder of Sinai and the Sermon on the Mount are pursuing and will overtake the ages, rebuking in their course all error and proclaiming the kingdom of heaven on earth. Truth is revealed. It needs only to be practiced" (page 174.)

HITLER AND DUCE MEET IN SECRET CONFAB

Speculation in the capitals of the world today quickened as Berlin announced that Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini had complted another historical conference, the place not announced.

The statement was startling, in view of the fact that only a few minutes previous the government in Berlin had announced that no such conference had been held nor had the spokesmen any knowledge of such a conference.

Benito Mussolini's newspaper, "The Italian People," predicted today that Germany would move out upon a blitzkreig three times as great and violent as that which crushed France and the low countries.

The new offensive according to this newspaper is due to begin within the next 70 days. Meanwhile the only war reported were air thrusts between Britain and Germany and the extension of the range of combat area for the German air force to the Suez Canal, almost a thousand miles away from the nearest Italian base.

A bulletin just received from Cairo Egypt said the British had routed two divisions of 24,000 Italian troops near the Egyptian Sudan, indicating another successful thrust by the British Hell on Wheels.

Way "Build-up" Helps Will Interest Women

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUI.

Principal way CARDUI helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force; so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Your confidence in CARDUI is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

John W. Mills Host At Venison Barbecue Thursday Night

A venison barbecue was served in the basement of the Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. John W. Mills, as host Thursday night.

Rev. Mills is an ardent huntsman and during season finds time to go to the deer country in Southwest Texas and on a recent hunt there killed two fine bucks which he brought to Cameron and placed in storage against the day when he would invite his friends in for a barbecue.

On Thursday night he was an ideal host and was being praised by many people troughout the city who attended. The women of the church prepared the vinison barbecue which was served at 7:30 o'clock. The Blue Bonnet Cafe under Fred Jackson, baked the pies.

Twenty men responding to an invitation assembled in a class room near the banquet hall and after an invocation by Hon. M. G. Cox, the men serving as waiters with white caps and aprons, filed along the tables with large platters of venison and were excellent waiters.

Rev. Mills was toastmaster and was at his best both as a speaker and with ready wit and humor kept a running fire of mirth, and made of the occasion one long to be remembered.

A number of visiting church men were called on for speeches.

During the barbecue a musical program was directed by Mrs. A. J. Triggs. Spiritual songs were sung by Mrs. Winnie Wittliff acompanied by Mrs. Guy Haynes at the piano. Jail Breaks Will Not Be Tolerated Says New Sheriff White

A wire fence to be charged with electricity at night may be included in the plans of Sheriff Valter White to prevent jail breaks.

Mr. White has asked the Commissioners' Court to build a fence around the jail, the fence to be similar in construction to those enclosing oil tanks and other places where trespassing is prohibited.

If the additional precaution is taken to charge the fence with electricity there should be no repetition of the jail breaks which for a long time resulted in criticism.

Mr. White told the Daily Herald that he is having the jail re-done and will hold a public reception when it is completed. He says he will not tolerate jail breaks and has already taken precautions necessary to stop escapes.

Send Navy Anywhere War Secretary Says

President Roosevelt should be given the power to send the American Fleet anywhere in the world, said Secretary of War Stimson, who was called back to the witness stand today in hearings on the bill to aid Britain.

The hearings in Washington are regarded as a confession of weakness by the Germans and they point out their belief that sentiment is greatly divided in the United States.

The German air fleet operating in the Mediterranean today attacked the British aircraft carrier Illustrious, and scored several hits, thus putting the big vessel out of commission for the rest of the war. It is the first naval disaster that has overtaken the British in the Mediterraenean.

The Royal Air Force carried out bombing raids over a wide area in Germany.

The government of Japan will make a reply to Secretary State Hull. What the nature will be was not known, but it is believed the issue will be squarely joined.

The war has reached another low in intensity and until another crisis is worked up little important news is expected.

Homer Peel Goes To Pacific Coast League

Hoping to shake off the bad luck that's hounded him for two seasons in the Texas League, Homer Peel, former manager of the Cats will leave soon for Oakland, where he will outfield for the Oaks of the Pacific Coast League. Last year at Shreveport a broken hand took him out of the Sports' lineup and led to a team slump that caused Homer to give up his manager's job. The previous year an eye injury handicapped his play throughout the season. Completely recovered from both mishaps and in fine physical condition, Peel confidently expects to regain his old batting form in the "double A" coast circuit. The Oaks' manager is Johnny Vergez, who played third base for the New York Giants when Homer was on the club in 1934. It will be the eighth league in which Homer has played. He's been in the East Texas Piedmont, Texas, Southern, American Association, International and National. Stan Corbett, Dynamite. Dunn and Eddie Lake, all former Texas Leaguers, were on the Oakland club last year.

Local Shop Keeper Resents Finding Photo Of Hitler On Door

Gertrude, operator of the Gertrude Millinery Shop, was severely insulted and shocked Sunday afternoon when she found a picture of Adolf Hitler pasted across the entrance to her shop.

Early Monday Miss Gertrude expressed her indignation in a short comment of her reaction when she discovered this picture and wrote the following for which she requests space in the Daily Herald:

"A local person has gone nuts over an Austrian rattleshake. He buys a Life magazine on a Sabbath morning, cuts out a picture of rattlesnake Hitler and pastes it on a glass door of my millinery shop. It seems very good paste was used for such a rotten picture."

"I came to my establishment at 2:30 in the afternoon and when I saw what was on my door, I almost fainted. I braced myself, however, and opened the door. I then tore the picture down and took my canary, "Billy," out into the open air, lest he be stiffled by the presence of such a picture.

"A little later I went out to see if I could find out where this picture came from. I found it came from last Friday's Life magazine. I think such a man who would paste such pictures on the door of any establishment in free America would do much better going to Sunday School and church on the Sabbath, rather than such nasty work."

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Clement. Sr., of Thorndale, Salty Community, have the pleasure to announce their Golden Wedding Aniversary. They were married January 21, 1891, in Taylor, Texas, at the home of Mrs. Sampson Connell, mother of Mrs. Clement.

Mr. Clement has long been known as one of the foremost educators of the State, having been County Superintendent of the schools of Milam County for fourteen years. He is a pioneer citizen of this section and is known by nearly every man, woman and child in Milam County. He has been a resident of the county for over sixty years and in his time has observed the wonderful changes wrought in educational facilities and curriclum. He was one of the first to advance consolidation of country schools in order that rural children might have advantage of high school training. He graduated from Sam Houston Normal School and also attended the University of Texas.

Mrs. Clement's maiden name was Annie Connell. After finishing her education she became a teacher of music, combining her talent with assisting Mr. Clement in his teaching profession. Both appreciate good literature as is evidenced by their splendid library and their accumulation of knowledge of the past as well as happenings of present interest.

Mrs. Clement's parents were pioneer Texans and she has the honor of being descended from Sampson Connell who with his father served at the battle of San Jacinto. Her Revolutionary ancestor was Joseph Beall, one of the twelve immortal judges of Frederick County, Maryland, who repudiated the Stamp Act and published their action to the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement made their home in Cameron for a number of years, going from there to Austin where Mr. Clement was employed in the Tax Department of the Comptroller's office. He also served as a member of the State Board of Examiners under State School Superintendent Doughty. For the past twenty years he has maintained his home at Salty on the farm his father bought seventy years ago when he came to Texas from Tennessee just after the Civil War. This home continues to be a seat of interest to many who come that way. The old time hospitality is still in evidence; relatives and friends come from far and near confident of a hearty welcome. About the home are found objects of interest and their collection of Indian relics: arrow heads and rocks, as well as things of historical and family interest never cease to make for converation and delight the frequent visitors in the home.

Naturally many honors have been extended to this worthy couple. One especially appreciated was an invitation from Dean T. U. Taylor of the University of Texas, to be an honor guest at a banquet in Austin during the 1939 Homecoming and Round-Up Celebration.

As evidence of the esteem of his fellowcitizens of Thorndale, Mr. Clement was elected Justice of the Peace. In this capacity he received the title of "Judge," and as such acknowledged as a just mediator. He is recognized as a peacemaker and frequently adjusted difficulties out of court.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement are consistent members of the Christian Church and their home has always been open to ministers and laymen of every denomination. They can be counted on to further any worthwhile movement of civic or religious import.

Golden Wedding anniversaries are always interesting and out of the ordinary, but this anniversary is exceptionally so because of the prominence of the couple and the length of their residence in Milam County.

There will be no formal reception in the old home. Mr. and Mrs. Clement will be guests of their children, Mrs. R. D. Parker and Frank J. Clement, Jr., in Austin. They will be accompanied by their son, Connell, who makes his home with them. Lucile, the older daughter passed away in 1917. The four grand children of which Mr. and Mrs. Clement are justly proud are: Margaret Anne Clement who graduates from Austin Senior High School this mid-term, Lila Anne Parker, a student in the University Junior High, and Richard Clement and David Connell Parker who are still in Wooldrige Ward school.

While visiting in Austin Mr. and Mrs. Clement plan to attend the inauguration ceremonies.

SO YOU PAY NO TAXES

According to recent polls 25 to 40 percent of the working people, who are not home owners and not income tax payers, believe that they do not pay taxes. By these same polls many others who realize that they pay taxes have no knowledge of the extent of their tax burden.

It may surprise, if not unduly concern, the working man who believes he pays no taxes when he learns that there are 126 hidden or indirect taxes on the pair of shoes that he buys. Following is the taxes on a pair of shoes from the rancher to the wearer:

16 taxes paid by the transportation companies.

12 taxes paid by the findings producers.

15 taxes paid by the packer.

14 taxes paid by the tanner.

14 taxes paid by the findings manufacturers.

16 taxes paid by the shoe wholesaler.

16 taxes paid by the shoe retailer.

148 different taxes on overalls.

142 different taxes on a plow.

125 different taxes on a new dress.

The sum total of the matter is that the wage earner of $80 a month with a wife and two children, although he may believe he pays no taxes, actually is paying $10.29 a month in hidden or indirect taxes. If he makes $150 a month he is paying $20.22 and if he is making $200 a month he pays $26.23.

A married man earning $80 a month does not belong to the group which pays an income tax—yet, his indirect or hidden taxes of $123.48 a year equal an income tax paid by a man who earns $6,542.11 a year

The workers and consumers can bear a tax burden up to somewhere between 10 percent and 15 percent of their earnings, but, when government takes in excess of this amount, the tax burden produces these effects:

1. Lower pay and fewer or higher wages for a few at the expense of unemployment to others.
2. Higher prices or their equivalent which is inferior or fewer goods.
3. Less interest on bank deposits, lower dividends on stocks and insurance.

TURKS REPORT REDS WILL FIGHT GERMANY

Increased German aid to Italy was evident today as a Berlin announcement said that 1500 German aircraft cruisers are now in Italy ready for the battle of the Mediterranean.

The most typical development of increasing Balkan tension occured in Rumania as revolts began to spread and iron guardists were reported attempting to overthrow the government of Premier Antionescue.

A Belgrade report said that hundreds of Germans were slain, including a high ranking Nazi officer, by Russian communists who apparently are attempting also to get control of Rumania and to take advantage of the internal disturbance in the country of former King Carol.

The radio broadcast shortly before noon said that a Turkish delegation returning from Moscow gave out information that Russia had already determined on a war with Germany and the recent trade pact over which Berlin made considerable show was nothing more nor less than a shrewd gesture by Stalin to give the Soviet time to prepare for the coming battle.

The Daily Herald also heard rumors that Germany may be planning to invade Bulgaria in an effort to assist Italy in her war against Greece and the British in the Mediterranean.

British forces in Africa were sweeping forward in all sectors driving the Italians further to insupportable positions in the dessert where they will be prey to hostile tribes and cut off from all lines of communication.

It was authoritatively stated in Berlin that no German soldiers are now in Italy, but all troops necessary for the maintainance of the German air corps are in Mussolini's country.

Tavern Fight Results In Two Indictments

Two indictments for aggravated assault were returned by the January Grand Jury against Ben Thweatt growing out of trouble that originated in his bar at the western edge of the city on December 16th.

Thweatt, indicted in two cases, is charged with striking Jonah Wilson, negro, with a pistol and shooting him in the leg. Homer Haddox, white, the other indictment recites was struck with the pistol.

At the time of the trouble Thweatt claimed the men entered his place and he refused to sell Haddox beer because he was intoxicated. Haddox is said to have started the trouble and the negro attempted to aid him in the fight.

Under the Texas law sale of beer or liquor to a person intoxicated is prohibited.

RIBBON CANE TIME IN EAST TEXAS . . . is Waffle Time at Home!

When East Texas cane mills like this one begin to turn and the scent of ribbon cane syrup fills the autumn air, it's time for waffles. The many different recipes for waffles make it possible to serve a wide variety, such as pecan waffles, cocoanut waffles, bran waffles and many others. And they taste their best when baked in an electric waffle maker and served with melted butter and fresh East Texas syrup!—Adv. T. P. & L. Co.
